

CHAFFEE'S STORY OF THE BATTLE

How Allied Army Whipped The Chinese At Pei Tsang Sunday.

CHINESE LOSS IS 4,000

Yellow Men Fought Stubbornly But Were Finally Driven To Retreat.

MINISTERS SAFE ON JULY 28

Washington, Aug. 7.—[Special Telegram]—The following cablegram was received by the war department this morning:

"Che Foo, Aug. 7, Tien Tsia, Aug. 8.—The conference today decided on the battle Sunday. The Chinese were entrenched east and west through Pei Tsang. The left of the Chinese position was protected by flooded ground and was practically unassailable.

"The Japanese, English and American forces about ten thousand strong, attacked the Chinese right, west of the river, in a flank movement. The other forces, Russians and French, about 4,000 attacked a strong position on the opposite side between the river and the railroad.

"At the first onslaught the Chinese were driven from their trenches. The enemy then rallied and resisted stubbornly, but were finally driven back. The casualties on the allies' side is heavy, but the Chinese loss is enormous.

"The American participants were the Fourteenth infantry, Reilly's battery and the Marines.

"The Chinese army is reported to be thirty thousand strong between Pei Tsang and Yang Sun, or the crossing of the road over the Pei Ho.

"The American forces are two thousand strong and a battery. The Omaha has arrived.

"The sixth cavalry was left in Tien Tsia for a guard to the city and is awaiting mounts.

"The ministers were safe on July 28.

CHAFFEE.

London, Aug. 7.—[Special Cablegram]—Additional details from the Pei Tsang battle are being received. One correspondent says the advance was begun Saturday morning. Late that afternoon large bodies of the enemy were met but they retreated after firing a few shots from rifle and cannon.

The real fighting began Sunday morning when crossing the Pei Ho bridge. The Chinese opened a deadly cannon fire many of the allies being killed and wounded.

The American and British artillery pushed ahead and engaged the Chinese at close quarters.

The enemy fought with rare stubbornness despite the fact that the allies' guns were tearing great gaps in their ranks.

The Russians are said to have attempted to bayonet a number of prisoners taken by the American marines.

The Chinese casualties are placed at about four thousand. The Russians lost twelve officers in the fighting around the trenches.

THE GREAT BATTLE AT PEI TSANG

Details of the Fight of the Yellow Men Yesterday

Shanghai, Aug. 7.—The first great battle in the war of the civilized world against barbaric China has been fought. The allies were victorious, but at a heavy cost, having lost 1,200 men, killed and wounded, after seven and a half hours' terrific fighting.

The Chinese lost heavily. Estimates of their dead vary from 5,000 to 10,000.

Americans in the Fight.

The American troops were in the thick of the fight.

The battle took place at Pei Tsang, a small town nine miles north of Tientsin. It began at 3 o'clock Sunday morning and ended at 10 o'clock. The allied army consisted of 20,000 men, as follows:

Japanese .. 12,000
Russians .. 4,500
British .. 2,300
Americans .. 1,600

The American forces consisted of the Ninth Infantry, Fourteenth Infantry, marines and a detachment of the Sixth Cavalry.

The Chinese forces numbered 40,000 men and were "highly" entrenched behind heavy embankments thrown up around the town. They had heavy guns, which they handled with deadly accuracy.

Greeted by Blaze of Fire.

When the advance line of the allies approached the town it was greeted by a blaze of fire and storm of shell which for the time stopped it. The attack had been carefully planned, however, and the troops were rushed into position. Rapid fire guns poured shot into the entrenched enemy, but had no appreciable effect on the return fire.

At 9 o'clock the allies decided to charge the town. The Japanese and Russians being the strongest were given the post of honor. They led the charge, the British and Americans backing them up admirably.

Chinese Guns Silenced.

At 10:30 the Chinese guns were silenced and the hordes of imperial troops beat a disordered retreat, leaving the town in possession of the enemy.

Of the casualties suffered by the allies no details are at hand. It is known, however, that they lost 1,200 killed and wounded. The Chinese lost nearly 5,000 killed and wounded.

The march on to Pei Tsang is delayed indefinitely. The town of Pei Tsang is now a vast hospital. Every facility of the allies' hospital corps and equipment is taxed to its limit, and runners have been sent to Tientsin for assistance.

While the allies won a victory its awful cost has convinced them that the relief of Pekin is not to be accomplished without assistance.

Chinese Line the Road.

At every town along the line of advance between Pei Tsang and Pekin is an army of Chinese. At the gates of Pekin 50,000 imperial troops stand guard. With such a heavy loss, 7½ per cent the first day, how long can the allies withstand such big odds?

The next important town on the line of advance is Yang Tsun, where the Chinese have 30,000 men ready for battle.

Thousands of Chinese troops are marching northwest from the Yang-tse valley to help in keeping the empire's capital from falling into the hands of foreigners.

TOBACCO SHED FIRE AT MILTON TODAY

Warehouse Belonging to William Oats on Janesville Avenue Burned to the Ground.

Milton, Wis., Aug. 7.—[Special]—A tobacco shed belonging to William Oats on Janesville avenue, in the outskirts of the village, was destroyed by fire today about noon, including a tobacco setter and other tools.

The fire department responded to the alarm, but the shed had burned before they reached the scene.

The cause of the fire is thought to have been spontaneous combustion in new hay.

The shed was worth several hundred dollars, and was insured.

The house of G. S. Babcock caught fire, but the department soon put it out. Mr. Babcock and his family were away from home.

Several acres of tobacco surrounding the shed were ruined by the heat from the burning building.

The loss is an unfortunate one for Mr. Oats, as he needs the building for his crop, and the time is limited for the erection of a new building.

MILTON WOMAN IS LOST

Mrs. Will Garlock of Milton, Wis., left her home Saturday afternoon with a small pail in her hand saying she was going out to pick some berries. Since then nothing has been seen of her. About twenty men were out looking over the surrounding country trying to find her, but without success.

The missing woman was subject to spells of dementia and it is feared by the family that she was taken with one of these spells, and has wandered off and some harm has befallen her.

Miss Carrie Baldwin left this noon for a sojourn of two weeks among relatives and friends in Milwaukee and Racine.

STATE POLITICS BEGIN TO HUM

Republican Convention Will Be Held In Milwaukee Tomorrow.

PARTY IS IN HARMONY

Nominations For State Officers Will No Doubt Be Made By Acclamation.

NEW FACES IN CONVENTION

Milwaukee, Aug. 7.—[Special Telegram]—Robert M. LaFollette, who will head the republican state ticket took possession of his headquarters at the Pfister this morning and with his arrival ante convention matters began to hum. There is only the question of the state chairmanship to settle and the indications are that Mr. LaFollette will personally have to decide on the man to manage the campaign.

It was his desire that tomorrow's convention would elect a chairman for the committee without his interference but the fight has become so mixed that a guiding hand is needed. It was said today that the choice in the end would probably lie between E. P. Philip of this city, H. C. Adams of Madison and Nils P. Haugen.

State Chairman Treat said today that in his opinion the convention would be closed by 6 o'clock in the evening, as nothing at present indicates a long session. The only delay can be through ambitious orators, and these the convention can be counted to choke off, unless their brand of talk is remarkably fetching.

Bryant to Nominate La Follette

The convention will be called to order tomorrow in the Exposition building at 12 o'clock noon. General Bryant, the veteran politician of Madison, will nominate La Follette. It is now among the reasonable possibilities that Nils P. Haugen will be the new chairman of the state central committee. The talk today is that it will be someone outside of this city, this being decided upon to preserve harmony.

Ticket to Be Named

The nominations will no doubt be made by acclamation as follows:

Governor—Robert M. La Follette, Madison, Dane county.
Lieutenant Governor—Jesse Stone, Watertown, Jefferson county.
Secretary of State—William H. Froehlich, Jackson, Washington county.
State Treasurer—James O. Davidson, Soldiers Grove, Crawford county.
Attorney General—Emmett R. Hicks, Oshkosh, Winnebago county.
State Superintendent—Lorenzo D. Harvey, Milwaukee, Milwaukee county.
Railroad Commissioner—Graham L. Rice, West Superior, Douglas county.
Insurance Commissioner—Emil Giljohann, Milwaukee, Milwaukee county.
Chairman of State Central Committee—F. C. Pullen, Milwaukee, Milwaukee county.

New Faces in Convention.

Most of the faces at the state convention, Wednesday will be new to the political world in Wisconsin, although there will be a few men on the floor who have been identified with the party half a century. It is almost a new party, so far as leaders are concerned, that is to transact the business for the republicans of Wisconsin this year, but there is faith, even among those who opposed La Follette, that the work will be well done.

Men are still to be found, however, who are ready to fight, and who will fight as soon as the convention adjourns, but what they hope to accomplish is a matter only vaguely referred to when they get together.

Headed by Gov. Scofield.

The crowd is headed by Gov. Scofield but if he has any plans he has not announced them. It is known that he will refuse to vote for LaFollette and it is even reported that the governor has said that if LaFollette is elected that he (the governor) will refuse to be present at the inaugural ceremonies.

More than this it is said that Scofield intends to do some talking from the stump against LaFollette but the governor will say nothing until the nomination is made, he says; then he will talk—at least he says he will, and that he will have something to say that will cause the liveliest kind of a sensation.

Ambassador White Returns.

New York, Aug. 7.—Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, was a passenger on board the Deutschland, just in from Hamburg. Among other passengers on board the Deutschland was John D. Rockefeller. Mr. White said, in answer to questions regarding affairs in China, that Emperor William's speech to the soldiers who were going to China was generally misinterpreted. "He never meant," the ambassador said, "to tell them to give the Chinese no quarter. Nobody so understood his speech until some French papers put that construction upon it."

FEEDING ARMIES OF THE WORLD

Wars In the Far East Call For American Meat Products.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG ORDER

War Department Asks the Chicago Packers to Bid For 838 200 Pounds.

PLANTS WORK DAY AND NIGHT

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Feeding the armies of the world has exhausted the surplus supply of cured and canned meats at the stockyards, and Chicago packers are considering the proposition of operating their plants night and day. The Hispano-American, the Boer British controversy, the conflict in the Philippines, the opening of the Klondike and Cape Nome gold regions, and finally the war in China have contributed to this condition of affairs.

Uncle Sam's Big Order

The climax was reached yesterday when Uncle Sam demanded of the great purveyors of food a supply of 838,000 pounds of meat for his soldier boys in the Orient and the Philippines. This is the largest single order that has ever been submitted by the government. Yesterday bids were called for by Major W. L. Alexander of the commissary department, and eight of the largest firms responded with offers.

The meats are to be packed and ready for shipment within thirty days. The cargo will be assigned to the marines in China and the troops with headquarters in Manila. The route over which the cargo is to go will be by rail to San Francisco and thence to the far east by transports.

Contents of the Order

This is the supply the war department requires of the local packers:

Bacon, special crates	600,000
Corn beef, two pounds	90,000
Roast beef, two pounds	45,000
Lard, five pounds	50,000
Sliced bacon, one pound	25,000
Beef tongue, two pounds	6,000
Pork sausage, two pounds	5,400
Chipped beef, one pound	3,800
Pigs' feet, two pounds	1,200

Total .. 838,200

The unprecedented demand upon the great packing industries of the city is to be met by the proprietors of the institutions involved while they are in a crippled condition so far as their surplus supply is concerned. Prior to the outbreak of the Hispano-American war there was in store upward of 20,000,000 pounds of canned meats. Today the supply on hand is so meagre in comparison that it amounts to practically nothing.

MARK HANNA TO TAKE THE STUMP

Ohio Senator Will Make Several Speeches for the McKinley Ticket During the Campaign.

New York, Aug. 7.—Perry S. Heath, secretary of the republican national committee, announced this afternoon that Senator Hanna might make several speeches during the campaign. He said there was a strong demand for the senator from many sections of the country and from many unexpected places.

Mr. Heath spent nearly two hours with the Ohio senator this morning, and this subject, among others, was discussed. Mr. Heath did not say Senator Hanna had decided to take the stump, but he seemed confident he would, without indicating when or where the senator would speak.

A further interesting announcement was made by Mr. Heath this afternoon. He said a preliminary canvass had been made in several western states. It had been found, Mr. Heath said, that in some important states about 17 per cent of the populists "who voted for Bryan in 1896 would vote for McKinley this year. The figures varied in the states, said Mr. Heath, but those given represented a fair average.

Her many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to the relatives. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from St. Thomas' Catholic church.

Victim of Knockout Drops.

New York, Aug. 7.—The body of the man who was found dead in a lodging house at No. 204 Allen street, where he had spent the day drinking beer with a man and woman known as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, was identified as that of Captain William H. Thurston of the schooner John Douglas from Brewer, Me., with a load of lumber consigned to Stetson, Cutler & Redman of this city. Capt. F. W. Hodgins of the schooner Nat Ayer, also from Brewer, identified the body. When Capt. Thurston's body was found there were but 6 cents and some old letters in his pockets. Before his death he had at least $95 and a gold watch and chain. He was robbed, anyway, and his friends think that he was a victim of knockout drops.

IRON BRIGADE WILL MEET IN CHICAGO

GEN. BRAGG ISSUES THE CALL FOR THE EVENT, AUG. 27.

President McKinley, Gov. Scofield and Senators Spooner and Quarles Will Speak—Banquet the Star Feature of the Reunion—Dress Suits Are Barred For this Occasion.

Extensive arrangements are being made for the reunion and banquet of the Iron brigade to be held at Chicago during the National encampment of the G. A. R. The banquet is set for Monday evening, August 27, at the Athletic club rooms. President McKinley has promised to be present on the personal invitation of C. H. McConnell of Chicago, an active member of the Iron brigade. Senators Spooner and Quarles of Wisconsin, Beveridge of Indiana and Burroughs of Michigan have been invited. These senators represent the states whose regiments made up the Iron brigade. Gov. Scofield of Wisconsin and Gov. Mount of Indianapolis are also to be present.

The price for tickets to the banquet has been fixed at $1.50 for members of the old brigade and $10 for others. It is requested that those who expect to attend will notify W. E. Minshall, 84 State street, Chicago, before August 15. Headquarters are to be established over the Economical drug store, 84 State street.

Call Issued by General Bragg.

General Edward S. Bragg, president of the association, has issued an order to members as follows, giving details of the reunion:

"The business meeting and reunion for shaking hands, hob-nobbing and interchange of old memories and reminiscences will begin at 2 o'clock p. m. sharp, Monday, August 27, in the magnificent Grand Army Memorial hall in the Public Library building, corner of Michigan avenue and Randolph street, especially allowed to us as a favor for that purpose.

Names of the Speakers.

"Sergt. Gibbons and Corporal Curtis will speak for the Twenty-fourth Michigan; Col. Dudley and Capt. Copeland will tell us about the Nineteenth Indiana and old Gen. Meredith—by jinks! Wisconsin will be heard from from the Second, Sixth and Seventh, as you all know, when you remember that Gil Woodward and two adopted sons of the brigade who will represent our honored comrade, Col. Dawes of the Sixth will be present. And of course, all the Grand Army men in Wisconsin know that Phil Cheek will be there. Col. Richardson and Capt. Pond, and a number of others whom you all know will tell you what they know about huckleberries."

"But the attractions given you in the above list don't compare with what you will all want to see and hear by attendance at a banquet to be served at the hall of the Chicago Athletic association, 125 Michigan avenue, at 8:30 sharp, in the evening. President McKinley will be there; Commander-in-Chief Shaw of the Grand Army, will be there; Governor Scofield of Wisconsin will be there. Charles G. Dawes will be there. Senator Burrows of Michigan will be there, Adj. Gen. Corbin is invited and will be there. Oh, the list is too long to print! We will all be there! Gov. Scofield and the Hon. J. J. Flanders of Milwaukee, together with some of our home talent will represent Wisconsin. It will be a swell affair and a rare chance to see most of the big bugs of the country.

No "Swallow Tails" Permitted.

"No swallow tail coat will be permitted to be worn by any member of the Iron Brigade. Don't dress up in fancy colors, but come in your plain, everyday clean clothes, like when your wives fit you up to go to camp meeting.

MECCA FOR GOOD DEMOCRATS

Chicago, Aug. 7.—[Special Telegram]—William Jennings Bryan arrived in Chicago this morning on his way to Indianapolis to be told that he has been nominated for president by the democrats. He came into the city at 8:20 a. m. over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. He went out over the Big Four road at 1:30 o'clock and will arrive at Indianapolis at 7:30 this evening.

The family of the candidate were with him and Gov. Thomas and wife of Colorado and Col. John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms at the Kansas City Convention were also in the party. They traveled in democratic simplicity, without the pomp of private cars or the ceremony of brass-buttoned porters. Adlai E. Stevenson joined the party here.

A big reception committee, appointed by the German Democratic club of Chicago, met the candidates at the train and escorted them to the Sherman house, where there was a public reception in the parlors. Until noon Mr. Bryan was in a handshaking mood and then he broke away in time to dine and then took his train.

A special train of twelve coaches took Mr. Bryan and his party and the accompanying Chicagoans to Indianapolis. There were 350 persons from this city to take the trip, all but 100 of them being members of the Cook County Democracy, who wore their glossy hats and long black coats despite the heat.

Mayor Harrison will preside at the Indianapolis meeting and will introduce Mr. Bryan. The meeting will be held in the open air and claims are being made that 100,000 strangers will attend the ceremonies. At night there will be a parade, in which local and visiting organizations will participate. Directly after the notification ceremonies Mr. Bryan and his family will return to Chicago. He will place his family in one of the suburbs and then with Mr. Stevenson and the national committee devote his energies for some time to working out plans for the campaign.

Hospital Corps Drilled.

Active work was begun by the hospital corps today, a full quota of men being detailed for that branch of the service. Thirteen men were assigned to duty under the acting hospital steward, and this afternoon they were taken out and drilled in litter work. After the inspection of the quarters and the work this morning by the surgeon general, the corps was commended for neatness and prompt service.

Those present at dress parade this evening will receive a rare treat. Joseph Clauser of the regimental band has completed his new march "The Park Commissioners" and the selection will be played for the first time in public at Tuesday's parade.

Hard Day In Hot Sun.

The troops had a hard day yesterday. While the first battalion was on the ranges making some excellent scores the Second and Third under Acting Maj. Wild and Major Quentmeyer were sweating under the hot sun at battalion and extended order drill. The troop was also hard at work at the school of the troopers and skirmish drill. Serg. Cutter of Co. C had the honor of lowering the range house flag at parade this evening. His score, 252, was one of the best seen on the range in two years, and is more excellent as the score is well proportioned, his skirmish score being 29.

Scores Higher Than in 1899.

The average scores yesterday are higher than those of the first battalion last year, the aggregate of the highest twelve scores being 2,428 as compared with 2,269 last year. The detailed scores are as follows:

Co.	Dist.	Known Skir.	Co. Dist.	Known Skir.	Co. Dist.	Known Skir.
Serg. Cutter	C 223	25	232	Co. D	223
Pri. Wittwer	H 222	22	244	Pri. Wittwer

Company Fire Ragged.

The company firing was decidedly ragged in places and was not productive of fruitful results. The highest number of hits, 120, was scored by Co. H, with fifty men, and was a fall off from the score of 173 last year, with the same number of men. Co. L alone scored higher than last year. The weather conditions were perfect, and the excellent scores at known distances gave expectations of better scores at company firing. The company scores were:

Co.	No. of men.	Scores
H.....	50	120
L.....	50	118
C.....	50	85
I.....	50	76

The battalions conducted themselves splendidly in the five hours' drill given them. The battalion movements were carried through almost without a break, the companies marching in fine form throughout.

KING ALEXANDER
WEDS MME. MASCHIN

Esposes the Low Born Maid Despite the Strong Opposition of His Family and the State.

Belgrade, August 6.—King Alexander yesterday wedded Mme. Draga Maschin, the ceremony being performed with great pomp.

The procession passed through streets gay with flags and flowers. Carpets hung from windows, and the balconies were crowded with people. It is estimated that no fewer than 30,000 came from the provinces and from abroad to see the wedding pageant.

Preceded by a squadron of Serbian life guards, the bridal couple rode in a carriage, and amid the loud cheers to the cathedral. The metropolitan met them at the door, blessed them, and, under the ritual of the Greek church, made them man and wife.

The king and queen then received the congratulations of the diplomatic corps, after which they re-entered the royal carriage and were driven to the palace, where a parade was witnessed and the wedding breakfast was served.

In honor of the event the king granted an amnesty, together with numerous political pardons, including the former radical premier, Tauschanovich.

Tracking Missing Mayor.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 7.—The report from Philadelphia, Pa., regarding the unexplained absence of Mayor Samuel H. Ashbridge from his office for the past month has attracted considerable interest here, owing to the fact that the missing official spent two days in Salt Lake City three weeks ago. He was accompanied by his wife and boldly registered at one of the leading hotels. Few persons saw him during his stay, as he kept rather closely to his apartments, but those who did see him cannot remember now that there was anything unusual in his talk or manner to indicate that he was in ill-health.

He now goes to the table to dine and is lively and hearty. Two flattened bullets have been removed from his skull, which was found to be hard as flint. The old man had been living more than a week with five bullets in his head, and is certain to recover.

A GLANCE AT THE PAST.

Tomorrow, at Milwaukee, the republicans of Wisconsin will nominate a state ticket by acclamation. There will be no contest, and no fiction. "Harmony" will be the word, and the best of feeling will be the rule. The factions that have warred upon each other during all these years are a thing of the past, and where bitterness and strife once tore the party asunder there is now good fellowship and unity of purpose.

What has brought about this pleasant state of affairs? Mutual forbearance and mutual concessions—the hatchet was buried by all concerned, and the feeling was allowed to run its course. In this connection, a glance backward may be of interest. On Friday, December 30, 1899, The Gazette published the following editorial:

LET US HAVE PEACE.

The republican party is greater than any man or men. It has been entrusted with the government of Wisconsin and the country at large because its principles represent the correct form of government—not because some popular idols happened to be republicans. The measures, not the men, have carried the day.

This being the case—and the fact that it is the case cannot be debated—why should republican men waste their time fighting each other when they can join forces to fight for republican measures. Internal warfare admits of no defense, and the recent factional fight was almost without excuse. In the heat and excitement of a campaign such as has just ended, both factions do things and say things that the calmer judgment of cool afterthought must condemn.

The LaFollette faction abused Gov. Scofield and the Scofield faction abused Mr. LaFollette—and neither faction believed one-half of the charges made to be true.

And what was the result?

Gov. Scofield was renominated, and the LaFollette platform was adopted. Thus both factions carried a point. The democratic campaign against Gov. Scofield was based solely on the charges made by the LaFollette men, and had Mr. LaFollette been the nominee, the campaign against him would have been made solely by the Scofield men. The republicans furnished the democrats with the only ammunition they had. Partisan speakers and partisan newspapers turned and argued, making charges and counter charges. The active party workers arrayed themselves on one side or the other, and the bitterness was greater than was ever before known in Wisconsin.

But who else was interested in the controversy?

No one. The people paid no attention to the campaigners bent on cutting each others' throats. They took no part in the discussion and paid no heed to the charges.

And why?

Simply because they favored republican measures first, and republican men afterward.

There is a lesson in the campaign that cannot be misunderstood and Wisconsin republicans should profit by it.

Robert M. LaFollette is one of the best known men in Wisconsin. As an organizer and campaigner he is, perhaps the most successful in the state, his work in that direction being on a plane with that of Henry C. Payne. Mr. LaFollette's personality is above reproach. His mental attainments are of the highest order. Up to the time that he "fell out" with his former friends, he was one of the most valuable and tireless servants of the republican party in Wisconsin. But he is "a fighter." When the estrangement came about, he buckled on his armor, and declared war. Since then, war has raged. That this fact is to be lamented, both sides agree. There has been no time, until now, that the two factions could get together and

Has it not come to pass?

As will be well remembered, the above article was the subject of an extended discussion among the newspapers of the state. The comment was all of a favorable trend, and even democratic papers like The Madison Democrat and The Kenosha Gazette commended the idea. The Milwaukee Wisconsin, The Beloit Free Press, The Whitewater Register, The Madison State Journal, The Milwaukee Journal, The State, The Chippewa Herald, and dozens of other papers took part in the discussion—nearly all of them in the way of "seconding the motion." The Gazette also received many letters from individuals who favored the idea advanced, and almost before the ink on the papers had become dry, the fact that bitterness would be wiped out, and that factionalism was dead, became plainly apparent. The rank and file wanted peace, and peace has come. A united and harmonious party confronts democracy today, and the result will be strikingly apparent when the ballots are counted in the fall.

SCARE FOR THE NEW KING.

Suspected Plan to Kill Victor Emmanuel III. Frustrated.

AN ARMED MAN IS CAUGHT.

Was Discovered in Hiding at the Railway Station—Threats for Crowned Head by Anarchist Section 163—Italians in T. City Under Surveillance.

Rome, Aug. 7.—The new king of Italy has had a scare and it is believed an attempt to kill him was frustrated. At the railway station here, while the king and queen were en route from Reggio to Monza, a well-dressed individual was discovered hiding, with a revolver concealed on his person. He was arrested after a struggle, and after being manacled was sent on to Milan to be examined by Bresci's judges. Compromising letters are said to have been found upon him. Former Queen Margherita and her mother are both prostrated, and have returned to Stresa, the latter's residence. The chamber of deputies held a memorial session in honor of the late King Humbert. The solemnity of the occasion was broken by interruptions from the socialists and republicans. The president of the chamber, Signor Villa, delivered a memorial address eulogizing the late King Humbert. He was frequently applauded.

Threats for Crowned Heads. Milan, Aug. 7.—A Russian named Jerlinski Agnome has been arrested here. He had in his possession a letter marked "Anarchist section 163," which stated that at the end of July an effort would be made to suppress several crowned heads.

Italians Under Surveillance. Constantinople, Aug. 7.—All the Italians in Turkey have been placed under surveillance and the Italian workmen at the palace have been discharged.

Ruined Iceland Farmers.

About 800 Icelanders emigrated from Liverpool to Quebec, yesterday, en route for Manitoba and the northwest. The recent order in council rendering compulsory the slaughter of foreign sheep and cattle at the port of arrival in Great Britain has ruined the prospects of many of Icelandic farmers, whose sheep require British pasturage before they are fit for killing. This has induced many of the islanders to leave for Canada with their families.—London Chronicle.

POLICE FORCE PLAN PLEASES EVERYONE

NEED OF THE CITY HAS LONG BEEN RECOGNIZED.

Eight Years Ago Mayor Rowe Recommended a Force, and The Committee's Favorable Report Was Adopted—Conditions Make It More Necessary Now.

The announcement that Janesville is to have a better police system has been received with universal satisfaction about town.

The fact that we were behind the times in this respect has been generally recognized, and many people have argued in favor of a change that will insure prompt service when an officer is needed. Chief Hogan and the other officers have long been handicapped, and have been obliged to work from 14 to 20 hours out of the 24, and even then it has always been exceedingly difficult to find them. It is not strange that many complaints have been made, and that the looseness consequent to so faulty a system should result in things that should not be. Now, however, things will be different. With a force, organized on the right basis and run as the police departments of other cities are run, there can be no such complaints in the future. The reorganization, it is said, will be thorough and the department fully equipped. The expense will be nothing at all compared with the benefits received, and Janesville people will have the kind of protection that should be given in a progressive city of 15,000 people.

Not a New Subject

The subject is not a new one, but has been under debate for many years. Mayor Oscar Rowe started the ball a rolling back in 1892. In 1895 Mayor Frank S. Barnes also sent a message to the council recommending the establishment of a police force. Mayor Rowe's message resulted in an investigation and a report by the police committee, composed of Aldermen C. D. Child, C. H. Kueck, I. C. Brownell and Edward Smith. The committee report was a lengthy document, saying in part: "Janesville, Wis., Dec. 19, 1892—The committee on police, to whom was referred the message of his honor the mayor, [Oscar D. Rowe] in relation to the organization of a regular police force in this city have had the same under consideration, and would report that in the opinion of the committee some system of police organization should be adopted by the council."

During the past two weeks there has been considerable discussion and many expressions of opinion by leading citizens regarding this question, and we realize that there is diversity of opinion, not only relating to the necessity of such a force, but to its numerical strength and cost.

For people who have not been members of the common council or who have not been in constant attendance at the meetings are aware of the expense of our present and imperfect police system.

It is not necessary for us at this time, to make a lengthy report, giving details of this expense, but it is known that for some time past three special policemen have been employed at an expense of twelve dollars a week, and also on all extra occasions when any unusual gatherings have been held in this city extra policemen have been appointed at an expense of from $2 to $3 a day each.

This expense together with that of the city marshal and his assistants, we think, would nearly, if not quite, equal the expense of a regular force.

Recommend Uniforms. Considerable space is devoted to a discussion as to the necessity and the cost of a police call system, after which the report closes as follows:

"In conclusion your committee would recommend that the city marshal, or chief of police, be directed to establish headquarters with the city clerk or treasurer and that the mayor be requested to appoint an additional regular special police who, with the special police now appointed, shall be subject to patrol duty under the orders of said marshal."

We also recommend that officers of the regular force be required to wear uniforms. Respectfully submitted,

C. D. CHILD,
C. H. KUECK,
I. C. BROWNELL,
ED. SMITH.

Signed Now, Only More So.

Such were the recognized conditions in 1892—eight years ago. That Janesville has grown in these eight years cannot be denied, and that the need is ten times greater today than it was in 1892, goes without saying.

As the result of Mayor Rowe's message, a force of a chief and two men—the same as we now have—was provided, and since that time, no change in numbers have been made. The committee's recommendation that headquarters be established and the men uniformed, however, was not enforced.

The Fire and Police commission, acting under the present law, has ample power, and that the council will adopt any recommendation the commission makes, is self evident. Therefore, the people can expect the kind of service that they should have, and a force in proportion to Janesville's greatness.

They will disband upon reaching Chicago.

THROUGH LINE FROM CHICAGO TO ST. PAUL

PURPOSE OF THE JANESVILLE AND SOUTHEASTERN.

The Track From Libertyville Is Solidly Built and All the Bridges Are of Cut Stone Masonry—New Station and Buildings Will Be Put Up Here.

According to the Sunday Milwaukee Sentinel, President A. J. Earling of the C. M. & St. P. R. in an interview said the Janesville and Southeastern railroad, now being built from Libertyville, Ill., in this direction would not touch Janesville but would go to a point north of here probably Milton Junction.

The Janesville and Southeastern railroad is already in Janesville. An immense trestle extending from Snipe hill to the southern end of the Chicago & Northwestern bridge at Monterey has been completed, the rails laid and is used daily by the work train. Immense cement abutments costing thousands of dollars have been constructed at every road crossing, and where the new road crosses the Atton branch of the C. & N. W. R. R. and the C. M. & St. P. Beloit branch.

The fill on the new trestle has already commenced and one section is nearly completed, being filled with the gravel taken from Snipe hill. A right of way was purchased from the property owners in this city months ago and work commenced. A few months more will see the line in operation from Chicago to Janesville. It would be a very queer thing that after spending this immense amount of money that the plans of the company should be changed to skip Janesville.

From the time the line was first started the Milwaukee papers have been worried over the fact that Janesville might be on the main line and that some of the through trains that now go by the way of Milwaukee would run by the way of Janesville.

The line now being built by the Janesville and Southeastern railroad is no side track. It is the most expensive line of road ever built in Wisconsin, and the most expensive line ever built by the C. M. & St. P. road, outside the short line between Minneapolis and St. Paul. When completed the road will cost in round numbers $2,600,000 or about $40,000 per mile.

In fact, it is being built with all possible care. Nothing is being overlooked that will ease the grades and curves, and make a road that is second to none. About thirty miles out of Libertyville still remains to be built.

The question the road is trying to solve is not one of miles but minutes; their idea in building this new line being to get a short line to Madison, Wis., and every minute that could be saved in the running time taken into consideration.

At the Janesville terminus at Snipe hill, the line branches off in two directions, one spur crossing toward the city and another toward the Mineral Point divisions, it being the object of the road when the new line is completed to run through trains with sleepers from Chicago to the western part of the state, connecting with the Mineral Point division at this place and also to run through trains from Chicago to Prairie du Chien by the way of Janesville and Madison, and compete with the Northwestern for the through traffic.

By this new line the C. M. & St. P. road will save twenty-eight miles between Janesville and Chicago, giving them an air line with easy grades and curves, with one of the best road beds ever constructed in this part of the state, over which as fast time can be made as over any road in the country.

As soon as the new line is completed and the yards in the city remodeled, a new station, costing in the neighborhood of $25,000 will be built, the plans for the same are now being drawn by the company's engineers.

The amount of good already done Janesville by the new road is enormous. The contractors and the railroad company have spent thousands of dollars in the city for supplies and material for construction. The large number of men employed in the work have left a large amount of money in the pockets of the hotel and boarding house keepers as well as the merchants.

The talk that Janesville will not be reached by the new road is all foolishness, for the road is already here and has come to stay.

MATCH GOLF GAME NEXT THURSDAY

Minneapolis Team Fifteen Strong Will Play the Buckleton Links Team This Week.

C. E. Pierce of the handicap and games committee of the St. Joseph Golf club this morning received a letter from the Muncie club of Minneapolis, saying they would send a team of fifteen players instead of twelve to play a match with the members of the St. Joseph club Thursday afternoon of this week.

The Muncie club is on its way to Chicago to play matches with the Onawentia, Glen View and Riverside clubs and are crack players. The local team is fortunate in securing a game with these crack and will have to put up the game of their lives to keep from getting scooped.

All members of the team are requested to meet at the club house at 7:30 this evening for the purpose of selecting a captain.

This afternoon will be played the second day's match play for the Hart medal and the semi-finals for the Valentine medal. The match between the ladies for the Valentine trophy will not be called until 5 o'clock so it will not be so warm for the ladies.

SMALL ENGINE TO USE FOR GRADING

Winston Bros. Bring in a Narrow Gauge Locomotive to Haul Dump Cars from Steam Shovels.

One of the smallest locomotives ever brought to this city arrived Saturday over the C. M. & St. P. R. from H. K. Porter & Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., builders of light locomotives, and consigned to Winston Bros., who have the contract for building the Janesville & Southeastern Railroad. The entire engine is about fifteen feet long and weighs 18,900 pounds. It is a narrow gauge with but four wheels, two small drivers on each side, and will be used to haul the dump cars from the steam shovel to the fills. It is a complete locomotive and a handsome piece of machinery. This engine will increase the grading facilities very materially, as they will haul about sixty dump cars at a time and will do away with a number of teams now engaged in that particular work. The engine will be used on the grade beyond the Proctor farm.

NEW THREE STORY BRICK WAREHOUSE

Work on the Building to be Occupied by Greene Bros. Begins—Increasing Business in Tobacco.

The grading for the new three story brick warehouse to be erected on the lot now occupied by J. W. Carpenter as a coal and wood yard has commenced. The new building will be 48 by 120, three stories high and when completed will be one of the most commodious and well arranged warehouses in this section.

The constantly increasing business of Greene Bros. has made it necessary for them to have more warehouse room. The building will be located just north of the C. M. & St. tracks and a switch will be built to the warehouse giving it excellent facilities. When completed the building will be a great improvement to that part of town.

The constantly increasing tobacco business is creating a demand for more warehouse room and good building sites along the line of railroad offering good shipping facilities are very scarce.

HEATED TERM TO STAY STILL LONGER

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT FOR PEOPLE OF JANESVILLE.

Yesterday's Temperature Was About 93. One Degree Below Sunday's—Today the Thermometer Showed About 90—The Brisk Breeze Tempered the Sun's Hot Rays.

Generally fair and warmer.

The end of the hot weather is not yet in sight, and the only consolation is that the southwest wind is dry, and this produces an appearance of coolness that does not exist in fact.

The highest point reached by the mercury yesterday was 93 degrees, or one degree less than on Saturday and Sunday.

The high still hangs over the southeast, and as it extends across the Atlantic ocean to Africa, it is hard to move. The cold waters of the ocean hold it in place, and until the high changes position there is little chance of cooler weather here.

The weather bureau at Washington yesterday sent out a special bulletin that a warm wave lasting several days would envelop the Atlantic coast. The wave reached the eastern cities yesterday. It was 98 at Albany, 96 at Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Parkersburg, Alpena and Daveport. The hot wave continues over the central west, the record for Green Bay, Milwaukee, Springfield, Louisville, Concordia, and St. Louis being 94, and 92 at the other cities in the same belt.

Duluth still has the coolest weather in the country, the temperature there being influenced by the northwest wind off Lake Superior. The highest point touched yesterday in the "Zenith City of the Uncolled Seas," was 64.

There was considerable of a breeze in Janesville today which tempered the sun's hot rays. At noon the mercury hovered around 90, still hot enough to cause many complaints. However, during the heated spell there have been no prostrations in this city that required the care of a physician.

For the general instruction of those who may seek to care for sufferers from the heat it is necessary first to know the temperature of the patient. If it is above normal (98) the stricken one should be subjected to whatever cold influence to bring down the fever. If the patient's temperature is less than normal speedy measures should be taken to bring it back to natural conditions.

Ice on the head is regarded by all doctors as a valuable aid to the heat sufferer whether he be ill from a high or low temperature. Stimulants are also used in both cases, some practitioners preferring quinine and others using whiskey.

MANILA'S NOTED PRISON

Humane Reforms at Bilibid Under American Rule.

NATIVE PRISONERS TRACTABLE.

Major Rogers says They Are Fond of Their Work and Are the Easiest Lot of Men to Handle—Spanish Methods of Torture—The Daily Routine.

On the outskirts of the city of Manila, over beyond the district of Santa Cruz, is the celebrated prison of Bilibid, combined with that called the Presidio. Now they are practically one, says the Manila correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing under the date of June 5. Major William P. Rogers of the Twentieth Infantry has been in charge, and his firm but kindly rule presented a marked contrast to the careless cruelty exercised by the Spaniards, though during the insurrection the adjective "careless" should be changed to "careful." This was just prior to the coming of the Americans.

The prison buildings cover a large area and are entirely surrounded by a high wall of masonry, on top of which at each corner a guard is stationed on a small wooden platform. The total number of prisoners at present is 1,100. Of course this number varies slightly from day to day. When it is taken into consideration that this is the prison and penitentiary for the entire island of Luzon and that more than 10 per cent of the prisoners are United States soldiers, the small number of criminals in proportion to the population is astonishing.

Bilibid is one of the most interesting places to visit in Manila. Though the prisoners are at their work everywhere about, you do not feel as if they were criminals. There are murderers and thieves and men serving sentences for all sorts of offenses, but their faces are not sullen or hardened, and all seem happy and contented. This refers more especially to the native than to the American or "Chino" prisoners, who are kept in a separate part of the establishment.

When handed over to the Americans by the Spaniards, the prison was placed under the authority of one of the volunteer officers. The prisoners were all equipped with the ball and chain, which were fastened to their ankles, and when these were cut off they had worn into the flesh, and some of the victims have been maimed for life. But the iron ball and chain are toys compared with another arrangement doubtless handed down from the middle ages. Certain prisoners who had proved refractory or whose offenses were considered to need an especial form of punishment were locked in double irons. One set encircled their ankles and another their wrists, like handcuffs, and these two sets were connected by a rod which could be shortened according to the prisoner's guilt, so that some of them were obliged to amble along with their backs bent over till their outlines resembled that of the ape.

There were other and more exquisite forms of torture resorted to during that reign of terror when a bloodthirsty captain general was attempting to stamp out the insurrection by methods popular when the Spanish inquisition was in its most flourishing state. There is a large, round well of masonry in the prison grounds near one of the workhouses. Near by stands a massive post. A crane was built out from the post, stretching over the well, and from this crane a victim was suspended in the water until he was brought to that point of semiconsciousness in which he was willing to denounce his neighbors or any other innocent persons whose names were suggested to him.

All that sort of thing is happily past. The gloomy, moss grown walls have been scraped and whitewashed, giving the place a look of cheerfulness which is not belied by visiting the interiors of the various buildings. These are nearly all of brick, long, narrow and of one story. Large barred windows open on both sides, making the buildings both light and airy. There are the barracks in which the prisoners sleep and the workshops in which they spend their days unless their tasks happen to be outside. The barracks are furnished with wooden platforms on either side, on which the men spread their mats at night.

At 5:30 o'clock reveille calls them up, while two American flags are raised, the prison band playing the national air. At 6 o'clock they have breakfast. At 7 o'clock there is the fatigue call, and all hands start in on their work for the day. Recall from fatigue is at 11:30 o'clock and dinner at noon. The native customs are respected even in the penitentiary, for time is allowed after dinner for the stesta before fatigue call again, at 2 o'clock. Recall is at 4:30 o'clock, and at 5:30 o'clock the bugle calls retreat. The band advances to a place near the gateway so that it may be heard by the prisoners in both sections of the prison, who are lined up outdoors for parade and inspection. The musicians are all native prisoners and play remarkably well. When they end the programme with "The Star Spangled Banner" and the two flags are hauled down, each man uncovers his head.

Major Rogers says that his native prisoners are the easiest lot of men in the world to handle. They never give him the slightest trouble. They like to please him and are fond of their work. To assist him in his work Major Rogers has a civilian superintendent and two native officers called first and second alcaldes. At the head of each brigade is a native "capataz," or warden. Though all the prisoners work together in the daytime irrespective of the crimes they have committed, at night they are assigned to brigades according to the length of their sentence. There are two prison hospitals. One for the natives, built of nipa and bamboo, is run on native principles, and the chief and most fatal complaint here is beriberi. The other is for our men and in charge of an American surgeon.

The only approach to a dungeon is the "Bartolina," a house composed of a series of cells for solitary confinement. But these are all above ground and have large windows and tiled floors. The last named improvement was recently made by Major Rogers. Before that the floors were of earth. Many other things he is doing for the improvement of the place, but the visitor to Bilibid comes away with the impression that there are few prisons in the United States where the conditions are more wholesome.

"GOLF POOL," A NEW GAME.

Golf Enthusiast's Novel Invention For Events at the Club.

A new game has just been devised by an enthusiastic golf player who delights to spend his evenings over the pool table in the rooms of his pet country club. The game he has christened "golf pool," and that is really the best possible name for it.

In playing the game the regulation pool table is used, such as is to be found in billiard rooms, says the New York World. Starting at one of the corner pockets, mark the figure 1 in front of the jaws of the pocket with a piece of billiard chalk. Move along to the side pocket and mark that in the same manner, only using the numeral 2. Proceeding around the table in the same manner will number the corner pockets 1, 3, 4 and 6. The two side pockets will bear the numbers 2 and 5. The table is now really marked for a six hole course, and the play may begin.

Only two balls are used, and not the full pool set. At the start off the "golf" ball is placed on the spot at the end of the table where the numbers 1 and 6 holes are. The "driver" ball is placed on the spot at the other end of the table and the opening drive made with a cue in the ordinary manner of making a billiard shot, the object being to put the golf ball in hole 1. Should the player succeed, the "golf" ball is taken from the pocket and placed on the center spot, and in every play for the next hole thereafter the ball is placed on the center spot, the player shooting from wherever the cue ball may have rolled on the table. The round of six holes is made in this manner, the player doing it in the least number of shots winning the game.

In place of the usual hazards and bunkers penalties are made in this manner: The player makes hole 1 on his first trial. In shooting for hole 2 he fizzes and the cue ball drops in No. 4. This counts two points against him, and he must continue replacing the cue ball on the lower spot. If on the next trial he makes the No. 2 hole, the score for that hole is four shots. On his trial for hole 3 should both balls drop in the wrong pockets the count is four points against him. The "golf" ball is again placed on the upper end spot and the cue ball on the lower spot. Luck being good to the player on the next shot, the "golf" ball drops in the third hole, and his score for the three holes is nine points. A player continues shooting until he has completed the round and is then followed by the next in turn. The game is a great one for developing position play on the pool table and at one of the country clubs has become such a favorite that the regular pool game has been superseded.

SIOUX FOR CHINESE WAR.

Suggestion That a Company of Indians Be Enlisted For Service.

E. A. Sherman of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and O. A. Brown passed through Council Bluffs, S. D., recently under the escort of Captain John Foster of Troop B, Grigsby's rough riders. The party was on route for the Rosebud agency, where the young men go for the purpose of ascertaining the feasibility of enlisting a company of Indians and half breeds for the purpose of offering their services to the government in the pending Chinese war.

The Sioux still maintain a tradition that their forefathers came from the western sea, crossing from island to island in a frozen country, and that they were driven to the sea by a warlike tribe having the hair of women and the eyes of the cat, and that should the "Lakotas" return and vanquish their former conquerors they would at once be reinstated in their former proud position as rulers of all the world.

This belief makes them fanatically anxious to recross the Pacific and engage in war with the Chinese. The Cedar Rapids gentlemen will publish an exhaustive report of these traditions and the advisability of using the Indians to offset the ferocity of the Boxers upon their return.

McGovern Will Uplift the Drama.

Terry McGovern, the pugilist who has been thrashing other pugilists so rapidly in the last year, is to be an actor, says the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. He will make his first appearance in Philadelphia on Aug. 18 in an instructive and interesting melodrama entitled "The Bowers After Dark." While Mr. McGovern naturally is desirous of elevating the stage by exploiting the above named classic, he is willing to stop acting at any time long enough to "knock the everlasting tail" out of Frank Erne again.

IMPERIAL BUGABOO.

CAMPAIGN SCARECROW ERECTED BY THE DEMOCRATS.They Would Furl the Flag and Permit Spain to Continue Its Work of Oppression—What Imperialism Really Means.Imperialism may serve as a campaign scarecrow, but before the harvest of votes is garnered next November the people will recognize that it is but a thing of straw.Imperialism presupposes an empire, and the magnificent domain over which our lovely banner flies is imperial in its beauty, in its products and in its extent. Such a wealth of hill, mountain, plain and prairie, such an abundance of crystal lakes and such a network of commerce bearing rivers were never before bestowed upon any people. Every state is an empire, every county is a principality, for which, as true Americans, we are proud, and for which, as Christians, recognizing God as the God of nations, we should be deeply grateful.This domain has been given to us by a power that is higher than any party or policy, though the Republican party was called into being in order to protest and battle against the division of this mighty empire, which Democracy declared, in the press, in its platforms and on the bloody battlefields, should be divided. To this extent the charges of imperialism can with truth be made against the Republican party. Abraham Lincoln was the embodiment of that imperial idea and a martyr to the cause of one flag, one country and one imperial destiny.Imperialism, if it means anything the Democracy would have the people believe, implies an emperor, a dynasty, a throne, a crown and a scepter. This feature of imperialism, by no stretch of partisan misrepresentation, can ever be charged against our honored president and candidate for the presidency.
He was the choice of the people; he was honestly elected in a constitutional manner and has been so loath to oppose the will of the people, as expressed by legislation enacted by congress, that in the four years of his administration he has vetoed but four bills.
He will serve his two terms as many other good presidents, both Democratic and Republican, have done and will then give way to his successor, chosen, as he was chosen, by the free votes of a sovereign people.The partisan accusation of imperialism, when translated into plain, everyday English, in the light of the history made during the brilliant administration of President McKinley, is simply this: The Republicans declare that it is their policy not to blindly abandon the islands transferred from Spanish to American sovereignty by the treaty of Paris. The Democracy, so far as it has a policy, would have the master nation builder of the world abandon its plain duty, furl our triumphant flag and hunt an easy future rather than a working future. Porto Rico, recognizing the fact that she cannot stand alone, does not wish to become an independent power, and the only thing possible is for the United States to continue its sovereignty, which is republican, or to invite Spain to re-enter the western hemisphere and commence anew her policy of misrule, of robbery and extortion from which we have delivered Cuba. To plant the customs of the seventeenth century in the dawn of the twentieth century is Democratic.
This is the logical conclusion when the Democratic cry of the Democratic platform is analyzed.The same is as true of the Philippines as of Porto Rico. Will the Democrats dare to fix a date for the evacuation of either? They are under the flag of the republic, and there they will remain. This means work and thought and statesmanship for the people of the United States, but it means blessing and liberty, justice and opportunity, for the islands placed under our care by solemn treaty obligations that were approved by the senate of the United States and urged by Mr. Bryan.
Methods of administration and of government are legitimate objects of party differences. But annexation is a fact.
It is for all purposes as much an accomplished fact as is the abolition of slavery, another Republican measure for which that party was hated and misrepresented.The people will learn that imperialism, as employed by the Democrats, means that they would have the country shirk its duty, turn its back on destiny, count all bloodshed as lost, furl the flag and withdraw its protection from people who need it today more than ever before in all their history.The charge of imperialism, when properly translated, means duty. And the party of Lincoln, of Grant, of Harrison and of McKinley is willing to be charged with doing its duty, no matter how hard that duty may be.Stripped of all glamour, the Democrats have entered upon a flag furling campaign. They condemn expansion, yet welcome Hawaii, because its one vote alone enables them to again attempt to overthrow the stable currency of the country. They decry "imperialism," yet shout themselves hoarse over a Hawaiian "prince." They are welcome to all the votes and glory they can make out of such duplicity and treach-ery, which will nauseate, but never deceive, the true American people.

Two Prices For Corn.

Wouldn't you rather sell corn at 43 cents in Chicago than at 28½ cents?
The former was last month's price.
The latter and the lower figure was the Democratic price in June, 1896.

Briefly Stated.

The Democratic platform can be read in three words—"Ag'n the government."

National Park Ablaze.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 7.—Deputy United States Marshal Sam Jackson, just in from Mammoth Hot Springs, reports a destructive forest fire that is sweeping the timbered area between the upper geyser basin and the lake in the Yellowstone National park. The fire is beyond control of the soldiers and road crews, all of whom were hurried to the scene. The buildings at the upper Geyser basin are in danger.
The line of fire is ten miles long, and spreading rapidly.

Population of Buffalo.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The population of the city of Buffalo, New York state, according to the official count of the returns of the twelfth census, is 352,219. In 1890 it was 235,664. These figures show for the city as a whole an increase in population of 36,555, or 37.77 per cent, from 1890 to 1900. The population in 1880 was 155,134, showing an increase of 100,530, or 64.20 per cent from 1880 to 1890.

Lorillard's Costly Houseboat.

Pierre Lorillard's houseboat Calman, which was burned in Florida waters a short time ago, was the most elaborate boat of the sort in this country, and the loss is estimated at nearly $100,000. Mr. Lorillard's boat was equipped with its own motive power and so arranged that it could tow a floating stable and carriage house, thereby permitting the owner to use his own horses when he wished to land.

Patron of Horticulture.

Prince Hussein of Ghizeh, in Egypt, is the professor of the most famous gardens in that region. Prince Hussein is a cultivator of flowers because he is a lover of flowers. By virtue of his success in horticulture he has become father and patron of the science in Egypt and has done much to promote the existence of the now flourishing horticultural society there.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

41—Nero Agrippa, persecutor of the apostles,
died.
1106—Henry VI the Great, emperor of Germany,
died.

1705—Joseph Rodman Drake, poet, born in New York city; died 1820. An Englishman who was comparing notes upon literature with an American asked him which four lines of poetry he considered the finest in the mother tongue. The answer, given promptly, was the quotation of the first four lines of Drake's ode to the American flag.

"When Freedom from her mountain height
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night
And set the stars of glory there."

"Yes," said the Englishman, "I quite agree with you."

1898—Spain accepted the terms of peace imposed by the United States; the terms called for the evacuation of Cuba, cession of Porto Rico and virtual surrender of the Philippines to United States control.

1890—The Dreyfus court martial convened at Rennes.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 203 Locust St journeyman carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in.
These conditions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."
